

Muzzle

"Having looked to government for bread, they will turn and bite the hand that fed them on the first scarcity." Edmund Burke.

Dog Attacks

Here I stand, introducing myself as a nobody.

At the beginning of the year 2021, a new era of cryptocurrencies was born. We all remember those days as the dog and inu coin season. Ones we grew to love, others we grew to despise them for different factors such as your classic rug pulls, fake exchanges, fake NFT games, and even fake real estate. I cannot name all of them because this wouldn't end. As a few people got an excellent return on investment, most got hurt while chasing promises, dreams, and our favorite, the "Lambo." Many of these dogs are running around across blockchains biting investors and taking away their investments. You are probably wondering why these dogs are always biting me in the ass? Let me say it is not your fault. Community members are always the ones hurt, and this has to stop! It is time to put a Muzzle on those bad dogs.

Being born from fear of the dogs that hurt us the most, "Muzzle" realized that developing a long-lasting project would need the community's help. Developers concluded that a primary tax mechanism can work in the first instances of a project as long as they are utilized correctly by developing a revenue-generating project. By that, we must come together and create something in the crypto space that has never been done before.

Learning new tricks can be an old dog's worst enemy

The tricks (Ideas) will come from the community and be delegated by them and directly to the developers to execute them. All this was part of an initial vision to give back power to the people; that way, they could decide the project's fate. Being deprived of these freedoms is not why we joined the decentralized world. We decided to put this new mission in motion with the help of some tremendously positive, imaginative minds willing to listen to the community.

A new Dog Pack

"The dog pack" is what we shall be called.

We will embark on a new journey to show the true meaning of decentralization and the vision long forgotten or deprived by big egos and centralized minds.

A big journey awaits the pack. Building a new empire is ahead; nothing can stop great minds united by the blockchain.

This is just the beginning.

Love always
